

A photograph of a modern building with a distinctive yellow facade. The building features a series of vertical, rectangular yellow panels that create a textured, three-dimensional effect. The building is set against a clear blue sky. In the foreground, there is a concrete walkway leading towards the building, flanked by green grass and some young trees. A street sign is visible on the left side of the walkway.

Un HUB CREATIC au
coeur du parc de la Chantrerie